

Florida Department of Transportation
Advisory Memorandum
Office of Inspector General

Assignment No. 10J-3011

December 27, 2002

TO:

Pam Leslie, General Counsel

FROM:

Cecil T. Bragg, Jr., C.P.A.

Inspector General

COPIES: CIO Hill, BSSO Manager Bradford

SUBJECT: Clint Curtis Diskette and EIMS CD Comparison

Executive Summary

This Advisory Memorandum is in response to the October 25, 2002 request by Assistant General Counsel Sanford. He requested our office compare the contents of the diskette delivered by Clint Curtis (hereafter referred to as the Curtis Diskette) to the External Image Management System version 1.3 on CD (hereafter referred to as the EIMS CD) as developed by the Department's Specialized Technology Section, to determine similarities.

We concluded that the Curtis Diskette and the EIMS CD are not the same because:

- Only two of 168 files showed any similarity.
- The file names, layout, field names and properties are different.
- The EIMS CD is a self-extracting, fully operational program. The Curtis Diskette does not contain an installation program nor is it capable of being installed.
- The EIMS CD application transfers files via FTP while the Curtis Diskette provides for creating a file to disk, a file to CD, a file to E-mail and a file to FTP.

Our comparison showed there are significant differences between the Curtis Diskette and the EIMS CD.

Introduction and Background

On April 1, 2002, Clint Curtis, a former Yang Enterprise, Inc., employee, delivered a diskette labeled "Batch Import Alpha" to the Office of Inspector General. Clint Curtis, who worked on the Importer/Exporter Module while an employee of Yang Enterprises, Inc., stated the contents of this diskette are the property of the Department and contain the Electronic Data Management System Importer/Exporter Module. He further stated that this Module was delivered by Yang Enterprises, Inc., and originated from Mike Cohen or Ralph Thompson of Yang Enterprises, Inc.

At the request of the Department's General Counsel staff, the Curtis Diskette was sealed and locked in the IT Audit area in April 2002.

Purpose, Scope and Methodology

The purpose of this engagement was to provide computer forensics services to the Office of General Counsel<sup>1</sup>.

The objective of this engagement was to determine differences and similarities between the contents of the Curtis Diskette and EIMS CD.

The scope of this engagement was limited to examining the physical properties of the Curtis Diskette (date the files were last modified, file sizes, file names) and comparing those properties to the contents of the EIMS CD.

Our methodology included:

- Removing the Curtis Diskette from its sealed envelope and copying it;
- Reviewing the EIMS CD using Visual Basic and MS Windows Explorer;
- Comparing of the files on the Curtis Diskette to the EIMS CD; and
- Installing the EIMS application to retrieve compressed files for comparison.

Findings

Our analysis showed the Curtis Diskette and the EIMS CD are not the same and contain significant differences.

- Only two of 168 files showed any similarity. The files below are from the Binary Works Zip application.

File Name	Date	Location Identifier	Directory	Size (kb)	Time
bw5zp36r.DE_	12/16/1999	Curtis Diskette		725	6:19:46 PM

BW5ZP36R.OCX	12/16/1999	EIMS CD		223,744	6:18:54 PM

A listing of all files found on both the Curtis diskette and EIMS CD are shown in Appendix A.

- Comparison of the Visual Basic forms/screens shows the file names, layout, field names and properties to be different (see Appendix B).
- The EIMS CD is a self-extracting, fully operational program. The Curtis Diskette does not contain an installation program nor is it capable of being installed.
- The EIMS CD application transfers files via FTP while the Curtis Diskette provides for creating a file to disk, a file to CD, a file to E-mail and a file to FTP.

We hope that the above information has been beneficial to you and the Department. If you have any questions or concerns, please call Craig Brown at 410-5800 x 152.

Appendices

Appendix A – File listing of the Curtis Diskette and the EIMS CD.
Appendix B – Exporter screens and 'file not sent error' screens from the Curtis Diskette and from the EIMS CD.

Appendix A – File listing of Curtis Diskette and the EIMS CD

1. The contents of the Curtis Diskette were reviewed and it was noted that it contained two folders and a zipped file:
  1. Contractor folder,
  2. 001 BatchStorage folder, and
  3. BW Zip Compress OCX 3.0.6 - VB5(SP3) full version-single user license.zip.

The two folders, Contractor and 001 BatchStorage, contained a number of Visual Basic forms/screens, three Visual Basic Project files, and a number of icons. No executable files were contained in either of these two folders.

The BW Zip Compress OCX 3.0.6 - VB5(SP3) full version-single user license.zip file contained a number of text and Hypertext Markup Language files (HTML) and two zipped folders: OCX Install.zip folder and sample project.zip. The OCX Install.zip folder contains an application called the Binary Works OCX compression application (V 3.0.6). Binary Works is an application that compresses and creates self-extracting files. The sample project.zip folder contains a sample Visual Basic project file, not related to the Exporter/Importer application.

2. The EIMS CD contents were reviewed and it contained the following files:
    1. BatchExporter.EXE
    2. BatchExporter.W02
    3. BatchExporter.W03
    4. BatchExporter.W04
    5. BatchExporter.W05
- None of the above files could be viewed without further detailed analysis, which is beyond the scope of this engagement.

3. The files contained on the Curtis Diskette and the EIMS CD are listed below. The listing is in alphabetical file name order.
